This is the outdoor area of the theatre – you can go down the ramp to come inside!

The main entrance is steeply sloped; our staff are on hand if you need assistance.

What will happen when you get inside the theatre?

One of the Box Office staff will be here to greet you when you arrive.

Inside the bar you can also order a drink or buy some food. You can take any drinks or snacks into the show with you. There is bench seating as well as stools in this area.

Our staff will have a red lanyard on, and sometimes they have a radio earpiece in their ear. This helps them talk to every staff member in the building. They are happy to help you.

The foyer might be noisy and busy; if you want to go into the auditorium where there's more space then please ask the box office manager, they're very friendly!

You'll also need to get your tickets from the box office.

If you need the toilets, they are at the top of the bar area and can be accessed at any time. They are gender neutral and there is an accessible cubicle with nappy change facilities here too.

Before the performance begins, you can go into the auditorium itself. An announcement will be made to let you know when the house is open, and then you follow the black corridor until you come to the seating area.

Access to the auditorium is via a ramp; our staff are on hand if you need assistance.

You can sit anywhere you like inside the auditorium, so choose wherever you want. Other audience members may sit in front or behind you, or next to you.

What will you see on stage?

This is the stage, where the actors will tell their story.

Lily and Bear is a family musical aimed at 1-6 year olds.

The performance will last around 40 minutes, followed by an opportunity to meet the Bear himself!

The production features music, projected animations and puppetry to tell the truly magical tale. There will be moments during the performance where the audience are invited to join in singing some of the songs.

What happens when the performance starts

The performance will start at 7:30 (or 3:00 for a matinee) when the house lights go down so the audience is in darkness, and people will turn off their mobile phones.

Please be as quiet as you can during this time. If you want to talk you can but the actors might not reply.

When you are inside the theatre there is always a staff member in the room. If you need any help they are happy to assist you.

During the performance there may be clapping and laughing, you don't have to clap unless you want to.

If you need the toilet, you can go back up the ramp, into the bar and out to the toilet area.

At the end of the performance is the curtain call, when the actors will come on stage and bow. The audience will be clapping and maybe cheering, you can do this too but you don't have to.

When the performance ends, you can leave the same way you came in to the show. You can stay also for another drink at the bar, if you like!

We hope you enjoy the show!
